

AMPYIELD™

Ampyield is a complete gut health package for calves. Establishing gut health and development in calves is essential for building a foundation of performance and profitability. Healthy animals will eat and produce more efficiently, ensuring that they achieve their maximum potential. Ampyield focuses on supporting animal performance by promoting good bacteria and limiting bad bacteria, all while building immune defenses and maximizing efficiency.

Strengthen your calves' foundation

Once born, calves face a high-risk period of two to three weeks before their immune system fully activates. As such, it is critical never to let your calves go unguarded during the early stages of their lives. Ampyield is an extra line of protection that can help you reap major benefits in the long-term productive life of your herd.

Ampyield supports the development of immunity during the high-risk period

Benefits of Ampyield:

ENHANCES
gut health and integrity

PROMOTES
a lower pH

SUPPORTS immunity through organic trace minerals

DRIVES
profitable returns

Recommended inclusion rates:

Calves: 6 g/h/d

AMPYIELD™

Alltech's areas of expertise

- ✓ Maternity pen care and calving support
- ✓ Calf management and nutrition
- ✓ Assessment of parlor routine and efficiency
- ✓ Bilingual employee training and support
- ✓ Working with you to troubleshoot so you can achieve your individual farm objectives

Jami Fagundes
Territory Sales Manager
559-203-0851
jfagundes@alltech.com

Ulises Salas
Elite Dairy Advisor
559-917-1324
usalas@alltech.com

Luke Miller, DVM
Elite Dairy Advisor
209-314-9680
lmiller@alltech.com

Nutrition your way. Backed by science.

Proven results:

Meta-analysis of technologies in Ampyield

Average weight of calves at 60 days of age

734+
research trials
in all major species

Contributes to MORE MILK
in first lactation

Calves are the future of your herd.
Start them off right with Ampyield.

