Requests for an AABP membership mailing list can be made by emailing Geni Wren, AABP Communications Specialist at gwren@aabp.org. Mailing lists are in Excel format and include name and mailing address only and provided as a one time use only. Sorting of data is the responsibility of the exhibiting company. Pre-approval of the literature piece to be distributed is required before the mailing list is sent.

Exhibitors may obtain one complimentary mailing list of Annual Conference registrants which includes the name and mailing address of attendees in the above format. The number of registrants varies depending on the time of request. It is suggested to not request the mailing list until after the pre-registration close date. Requests can be made by emailing Dr. K. Fred Gingrich II at fred@aabp.org.

6. Hotel Accommodations for Exhibitors

Hotel reservations can be made by going to aabp.org and clicking on the ‘Exhibitors’ menu on the far right side of the webpage and then clicking on ‘Conference Housing’. The AABP Housing Bureau will open tentatively on May 1st and close on August 19th. Exhibiting companies are encouraged to stay in the AABP hotel block to minimize financial risk to AABP. Exhibitors who have a valid reservation in the AABP hotel block receive concessions on name badges (provided before August 19th) as well as receive points for each room reserved (one point for each room for the conference regardless NOT the number of room nights).

Companies who wish to reserve a housing block of ten or more rooms can make that request through the housing link on the Exhibitors menu. Companies should not contact the hotel directly.
